01

Company + product fact sheet

A single-page briefing for accurate first references.

LegalEase turns non-complex legal tasks into bounded, plain-English self-help workflows. The platform sits between doing nothing and hiring a lawyer for every routine step. Its flagship live product, Expungement.ai, helps people understand possible record-clearing paths, prepare self-help materials where supported and stay organized through the filing process.

What LegalEase is

- A legal technology and justice-tech company.
- A workflow layer for routine, self-represented legal tasks.
- A consumer platform and partner infrastructure for trusted organizations.
- A product family with common guardrails, security and plain-language design.

Who it serves

- Individuals seeking an affordable starting point.
- Nonprofits, reentry and workforce programs.
- Legal-aid and clinic partners, public agencies and community organizations.

APPROVED ONE-SENTENCE DESCRIPTION

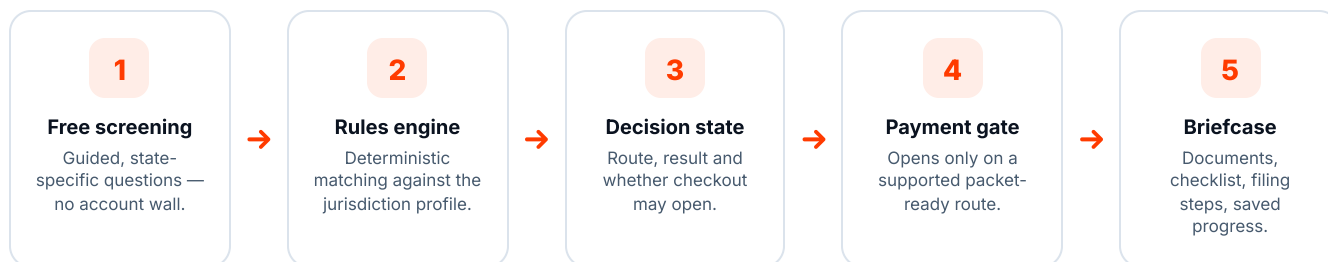

LegalEase turns non-complex legal tasks into bounded, plain-English self-help workflows that screen scope, prepare documents, organize next steps and stop when attorney help may be needed.

02 Architecture summary: how the product works

One-page product flow and decision architecture.

Expungement.ai is a rules-driven workflow. Wilma helps users understand the process, but the state-specific rules engine — not an open-ended chatbot — determines the route, result state and whether checkout can open.

THE WORKFLOW, END TO END

Decision states

PACKET READY

NEEDS INFORMATION

NOT YET

GUIDANCE ONLY

OUT OF SCOPE

Every screening resolves to one explicit state. The engine never improvises a route; each state maps to a defined next step and a defined boundary.

No-payment principle

The user does not pay unless a supported packet-ready route is identified. Payment is coupled to packet availability — not to starting, screening or asking a question.

Partner access

A covered partner participant can bypass the consumer payment gate and enter the same Briefcase workflow, with the same guardrails and document logic.

THE ENGINE, NOT A CHATBOT

Route selection, required facts, waiting periods, exclusions and packet availability are decided by deterministic rules and hard gates. Wilma explains; the rules engine decides.

03 How human + legal review works

Four distinct layers — and one important boundary.

LegalEase separates product-level legal review from individualized representation. That distinction is central to how the product is built and described.

1

Legal source review before deployment

State statutes, court rules, official forms, waiting periods, exclusions, route labels and filing destinations are researched and mapped into a jurisdiction profile. Packet-capable routes are reviewed and approved before the system can sell them.

2

Attorney-reviewed document logic

The legal logic and self-help document paths are reviewed for the supported scope. Route-specific templates and instructions are tied to the state profile rather than generated as generic legal advice.

3

Engineering + quality assurance

The engine uses deterministic matching and hard gates. Testing checks route selection, required facts, waiting periods, exclusion categories, packet availability and payment-to-packet coupling. Uncertain states fail closed.

4

Human support + escalation

People can help with account access, product navigation, locating records, understanding prompts and completing the workflow. When facts are missing, contradictory, complex or contested, the system asks for records or points toward attorney help.

THE KEY DISTINCTION

"Attorney-reviewed product logic" does not mean an attorney reviews every customer's individual case. The standard $50 product does not include legal representation, an attorney-client relationship, court appearance or individualized legal advice.

COMMON ESCALATION TRIGGERS

Source uncertainty

Court outcome, charge category or record details are unclear.

Complexity or contest

A prosecutor objects, a hearing becomes contested or legal strategy is required.

High-stakes consequences

Urgent, immigration-sensitive, safety-related or otherwise high-risk facts appear.

04 Where the product deliberately stops

What Expungement.ai will not do — and what happens instead.

The safe outcome is sometimes to stop, explain why and give the user a more appropriate next step.

● The workflow stops or withholds checkout when

- The engine cannot identify a supported packet route from the facts provided.
- Key court or disposition information is missing or contradictory.
- A required waiting period has not passed.
- The route is automatic, agency-only, prosecutor-only, board-only or otherwise has no appropriate user-filed packet.
- The case appears complex, contested, urgent, unsafe or high-stakes.
- The matter falls outside record clearing or outside the product's configured scope.

● The product will not

- Act as a law firm or create an attorney-client relationship.
- Provide individualized legal advice or legal strategy.
- Guarantee eligibility, filing acceptance, court approval or record removal.
- Represent the user, appear in court or argue a contested hearing.
- File documents as LegalEase or make the final agency/court decision.
- Use Wilma as an AI lawyer or let a chatbot improvise the legal route.

WHAT THE USER RECEIVES INSTEAD

1

A plain-English status

What the system can and cannot conclude.

2

A reason

Missing facts, timing, route type or safety boundary.

3

A next step

Gather records, wait, use an official process or seek counsel.

4

Saved progress

Return to the Briefcase without starting over.

05

Current product screenshots

Real product surfaces with sample data; captured from current July 2026 materials.

These screens show the two most important front-end states: a structured, state-specific check and a result that opens the packet path without promising an outcome.

Expungement.ai is not a law firm and does not provide legal advice. Court approval is not guaranteed. You are paying for packet preparation and filing instructions, not a promised outcome.

Packet-ready result with boundaries

The result uses careful language and states that payment is for packet preparation and filing instructions, not a promised outcome.

No account wall

The user can begin the free check before creating an account.

State context stays visible

The jurisdiction and progress remain clear throughout screening.

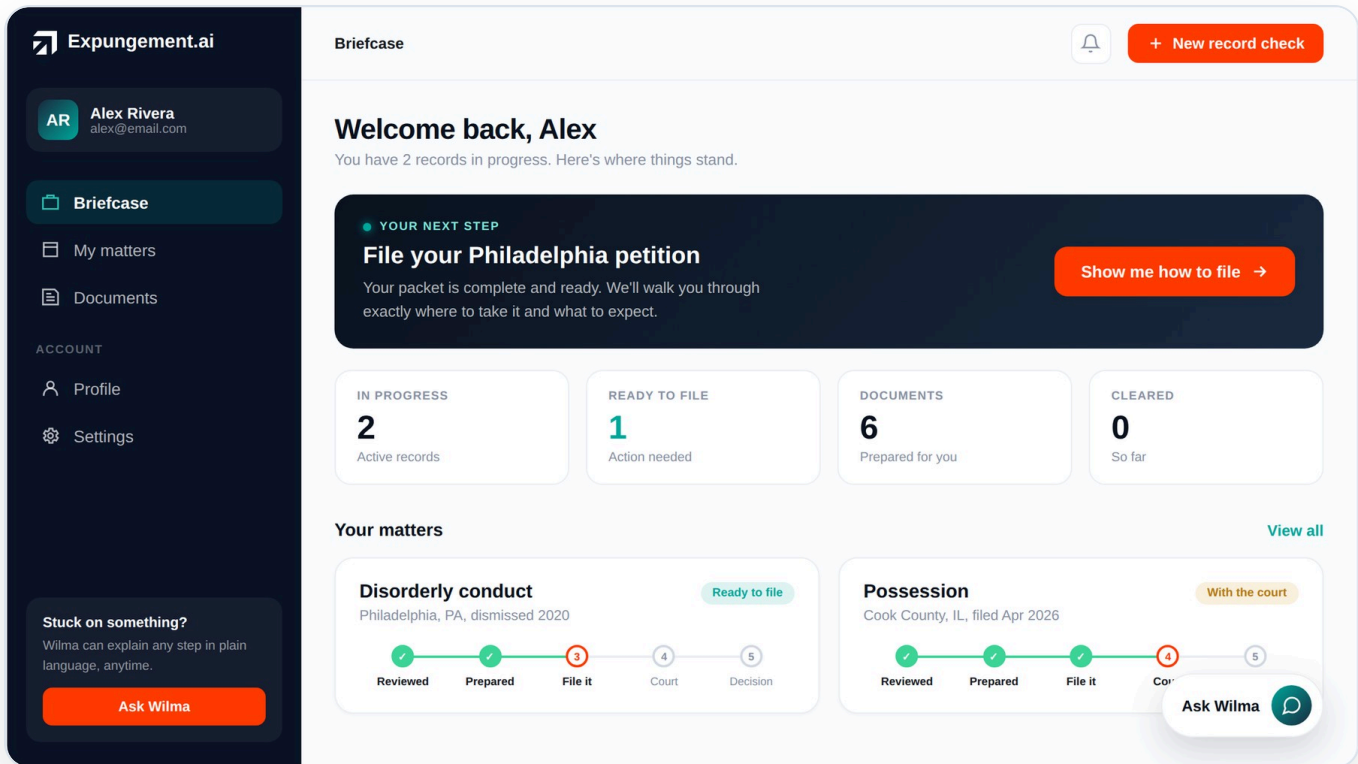

Outcome language stays bounded

"May be able to" and the disclaimer preserve the self-help line.

Briefcase dashboard with sample data: matter status, prepared documents, filing step and access to Wilma.

Briefcase dashboard — from packet to next action

One place for matter status, the current filing step, prepared documents and Wilma. Progress is saved so the user can return without starting over.

A clear next step

"Your next step" names one action — such as filing the prepared petition — with plain-language help.

Active matters & stages

Each record shows verified stages: reviewed, prepared, file it, court and decision.

Documents & Wilma

The prepared-document count stays visible, and Wilma can explain any step, anytime.

Media-use note: these are current product surfaces captured July 2026, shown with sample or synthetic data. Product UI may evolve while the underlying boundaries remain. When a source fact is uncertain, the product presents a fail-closed "needs review" state rather than pushing to checkout — see §04, Where the product stops.

06 State coverage: what is supported

Free screening and guidance in all 50 states + D.C.; packet availability is route- and fact-specific.

Every jurisdiction in the current product catalog has at least one packet-capable route. That does not mean every record or every person qualifies. A paid packet path opens only when the user's answers match a supported, user-filed route and pass the configured timing, completion and exclusion gates.

Packet-capable

The system can prepare self-help materials when the route and facts are supported.

Guidance / verification

Automatic, agency-led or no-filing relief is explained without selling an unnecessary packet.

Case-specific

The table lists examples, not a legal conclusion for any individual record.

JURISDICTION	PACKET-CAPABLE ROUTE EXAMPLES	GUIDANCE-ONLY / AUTOMATIC EXAMPLES

How to read this table: "Packet-capable" means a supported, user-filed route can produce a self-help packet when the facts qualify. "Guidance-only / automatic" means relief may exist but does not require — or is not delivered through — a paid LegalEase packet.
